13 Information

If the sound is not as it should be, you can check that the following settings are correct. These adjustments will affect the volume of the warning sounds. We do not recommend adjusting these to loud.

ATTENTION! The input adjustments on the amplifier may have a groove, an arrow, or a white mark depending on the production version. These should point as shown in the illustration.

14 Adjustments

We have set up the package with the following settings on the car radio.

You can, of course, adjust this, but we must ask for consideration in the event of major changes. More power has been added and the speakers can then be damaged more easily at high volumes. The position sets to center.

Engine sound volume can be adjusted as you prefer under "N Active Sound+" setting.

All speakers are damaged by abuse. Be careful not to play too loud so that the speakers' coil is burned off. It is not covered by warranty or complaints.
