12 Information

If the sound is not as it should be, you can check that the following settings are correct.

13 Settings

We have set up the amplifier with neutral settings on the car radio in the car.

You can, of course, adjust this, but we must ask for consideration in the event of major changes here. More power has been added and the speakers can then be damaged more easily at high volumes.

All speakers are damaged by abuse. Be careful not to play too loud so that the speakers' coil is burned off. It is not covered by warranty or complaints.
